

Diplomacy and the New World

April 10th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

Diplomacy is caused by new consensus and agreement. So we have a choice to seek a new world.

This is the only way to find hope and possibility in the world and be in touch with the future. We may have our world vision against any reality of the world.

All realities must be calculated, and we can take our actions. Military and economic power permits us to find any reality in the world.

Above all, we have a choice in our diplomacy, which can bring any reality into the world. We may find these decisions of any nation standing against any reality of the world.

As mentioned above, all entities from the universe may be watching here on the ground, and they have their choices and plans here on Earth.

We may find conflict between the USA and China. The last emperor must make his decision under all these circumstances. So we must know there will be changes in the future.

If the truth of the world is revealed, what should all people decide? We may know that there are all revolutions in the world.

We can't find any world leaders today, but how about the future? If given to the world, he would be a gift from God. And he is the only possibility we can find the future.

If we want to stand equally with the world, we need the same power as them. This is the only way we can stand against any reality.

We may declare a revolution in our office; we need all our friends worldwide.