We, KURODA International Consulting LLC, are pleased to propose a Draft of the UN General Assembly Speech and a Draft for the UN General Assembly General Debate.

Draft of UN General Assembly Speech

We question the current world framework and propose a new world and transition to all world nations.

This is a proposal to move away from conflict and towards a shared ideal of a new world. It invites all nations to participate in constructing a new world system and to reject the monopoly of the possibilities of the future. We are all in this together.

We want to propose that politics is not discrimination based on nationality or race but a shared responsibility to all global citizens.

Draft for the United Nations General Assembly General Debate

We want to propose a decision on a new world framework in the general debate of the United Nations General Assembly.

These are proposals for creating a just world and for a consensus on a shared world free from all conflicts.

These are proposals for a shift from the current world system to a new world with the consensus of all nations. We would like to present a shift from the reality of the power game to a world in consensus on a shared ideal of the future.
