

Encounter with underground people.

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

We find all residents of the underground of the earth. They may have all their technologies. We are trying to contact them and make a new relationship with them.

We could equally share the world in the future. We could propose to them any request and share this planet.

We could both share own world and seek any possibilities in the future.

As we know, we are facing new futures. We could discuss and make any decision together.

Even we could find a possibility to cooperate to face the coming future.

We could propose our opinions and ask for all learning of this planet, academics, and technologies.

This is an idea for a new possibility of the earth. And if we desire, they could ask for their contact.
