

Engaging with the formidable force of American political power

May 19th, 2024 Kuroda International Consulting Takeshi Kuroda

They have all intelligence. That is the strength of their control of the world. Washington, DC, and the bases of their politics make their presence in the world possible.

Preparing all political environments permits and makes things possible to make a reality. We must know that politics only creates realities, so we must make its bases.

We have proposed learning that all political decisions are from all intelligence, which creates the realities.

These are the proof of the age of new intelligence, and forced labor may not reach the future.

Any reality is created by politics, so we have a complete necessity to make all the bases. That is any possibility we find in the future.

Progress of intelligence is equally we may find in reality.

Equal conversation and cooperation require equal intelligence. If we do not reach all these requirements, we may only find failure of self.

We find that all these fundamentals of the nation only make it possible to create any reality in international society.

With an easy explanation, these are any calculations under academics with all realities and any details of plans under those bases.

These permit political presence based on those fundamentals.

Intelligence is the amount of progress we find in reality and the future. These are the efforts we have to make.