

Facing all changes in the future

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Public opinion and world affairs have entirely changed. These are predictors of obvious changes in the future.

The world is totally changed International society, starting with the Ukraine invasion and Covid 19 pandemic.

We have a China matter, and we could expect new to occur in the future. And we have a new economic rule. There are all new technologies.

We can see a conflict between USA and China. These must expand to the whole world. This might be the right idea so we can forecast the future.

And these could be expected by world war 3rd. There are fewer possibilities of victory with China.

The Anglo-Saxon mission must stand against the Chinese alliance. This means that the rise and fall of civilizations have a final battle.

How do you make all your decision under these circumstances?

There must be any decision from space. If there is any interruption from them, we have a difference in realities.

The United Nations must seek a new world government. They have justice. Do we follow their righteousness?

The world must change in the future. We have to prepare for them deeply.

A step makes a change that is a truth.
