

For all children with an equal opportunity

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

To see the world, there is a difference between all children. Under any reality, they seek a future. Equal opportunity is a decision and consensus in all politics.

These are the right to seek a future under equal opportunity. There is all possibility with international society to make a consensus.

There is a future that we may cooperate. Since we have all poverty and a poor environment, we propose that all children participate in the world and the future.

These new consensuses give the creation of a new world. These are the futures of a fair new world.

I am offering new responsibilities to the world. That is a new creation of the world.

We are not trying to seek a right but all responsibilities.

All these new consensuses could give a new reality in the world. That must be further cooperation and unification of self.

And all these new consensuses could give a future to all children.

Making education up to university compulsory or free of charge is necessary for participation in a new technological civilization.

A new world requires beings with new conditions. That must be a change we have to make.
