

From the age of survival to a new purpose

Office
of
Kuroda International Consulting
Takeshi Kuroda

If survival is guaranteed, we may seek a purpose in life. These are the subject we can find in human history.

We have all new revolutions in technology and systems. They have all use for new realities.

We have to know it is possible today so that we may try to agree based on the world. A world without pain and suffering may be ideal for human beings. We have now all progress in academics, and we may reach new eras.

Survival was the only necessity for any history. Conquering survival is a challenge for human beings.

Technological progress and new systems of society are now reaching the decision. We can change the world, and we may create a new world under all progress.

The creation of the richness of life is in new standards and technologies, enabling the creation of the world in new political consensus.

We may dream a new world above all dreams that all people spend themselves.

These are from political consensus and agreement. Due to politics has its decision.

Any plans must be based on the highest knowledge and understanding that any academics gives us a use for the future.