

From the logic of the strong, the challenge of creating a new civilization in intellectual progress.

KURODA International Consulting
Takeshi Kuroda

Bravery is a legacy of war. The past is indeed dominated by war, and the new future questions the logic of the strong.

We see all weak. But they equally have to live for the future. That causes us to make a different decision from the reality we have today.

How do we reach a dream? But how do the strong avoid the weak?

We need a correct world with the proper rules. Any suffering and pains may not contain paradise.

As we know, politics have all decisions since they are kings.

In a history that is filled up with wars. That is all the same as we find in Ukraine today. That is what I insist we need in a new world.

If we are facing our decision in the future, what is a decision?

I will give you the truth. That is the world and the future.