

Full acceptance of the UN Human Rights Commission and participation in the new international community

January 15th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

New steps into the international society may be above the acceptance of the UN Human Rights Commission.

These will realize self-resolution and build new relationships with the international community.

All these equally participate under all consensus of humanism to the world. These always give rise to the creation of a new reality. Also, change provides change. It proposes that we abandon our presence in other worlds and participate in the world with new responsibilities.

To change reality, you must first change yourself. This is a proper choice to seek for the future.

Who could we calculate a new reality as we are trying to step into the international society? We are changing the world.

And we need to have our vision of the world. Now we are sharing all its responsibility.

And then we see all tails of the reality of the world. They have their decision, and it may not be prevented.

Under all these truths, we need to make our decision. The world is divided into two realities, and we must present our world vision. That may gather the reality against all truth of the world itself.

The power game must end the power game. This must be laws. And how could we face any justice?

So we must be prepared for the future, as we insist on the unification of Asia.