

Gentlemen's Agreement: Correct Foreign Policy

July 18th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

The gentleman's agreement of non-aggression and mutual guarantee of autonomy is a mature and correct diplomatic decision in a troubled world.

All these make the distance of any relationship because we seek domestic development in its priority of self.

These relationships, forged through gentlemen's agreements, are the cornerstone of peace in the world. They provide a consensus that allows for independent diplomacy.

In the complex and often treacherous world of politics, a gentlemen's Agreement stands as a shield, protecting nations in the arena of world politics.

To seek our position at the International Society, we need to be wise and only do some luck of any wise.

This decision is a solution to our confusion and asking for a new reality in international societies.

Respect must be a common theme in diplomacy. We are not trying to cause trouble in the real world.

Conflict must be solved in each respect, as the Gentlemen's Agreement said.

The new attitude is the basis of our new realities, creating new demands on the world.

We are not trying to be against the world, but trying to be in with the same rules and laws.

So, reestablishing self under humanity and conscience may cause self with own difference, making a difference in reality.