These are unification under the justice of the liberal camp. There are a few who is standing against it.

There are all from the western camp with all reality we have with a world. They have a decision of the world.

As we may know as Pax Americana, they are rising their justice against the world as we may find their presence from the past to the future.

As the tail of their political environment, they have their decisions. These are facing reality for any conclusion of self.

There must be a final war that we are equally asking the future.

Globalization finds any differences in civilization and nationality. This has a struggle of reality.

Unification has a difference under a decision or whole agreement. This has a difference among them.

We may imagine the world and future, but we have its choice equally,
