

Hyperinflation

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

The rise in the price index gives the reality of the future. All industries must face all these realities.

Must be all business environment reconstruct self to a new market. How the market gives profit?

The world must change itself to new realities related to all economic environments. That is the tail of the plan successfully given to the world.

To be wise, this is a reconstruction of the world, and we may see winners and losers. New laws of the market decide the world. That means we have to belong with victory.

These are with the reconstruction of the new society with new technologies and social systems.

This new reality has new kings with victory to a market.

To be considered with new reality how we handle with business? The latest price standard has its presence with technology and systems.

This must cause winners and losers. That means we still do not face the future.

Business is a battle; it has winners and losers that we are facing new kings with the business field.
