The world must lose love at once. And we have all conflict and wars.

So we may find all the solutions of the world. Love is all common we may share in the world.

With the former description, we may cause hatred in any reality. Competition comes with rules, and we would share the wealth with the only purpose of self.

This may be the world of evils, so we need a righteous decision for the world. This is the only choice as we seek the future.

Peace must stand against all these realities. Love could base them, and justice may cover the world. This must be a reality of liberalism; they cover the globe under their love.

Any conflict is based on seeking one's profit, as we find all the reality of the wars in the past.

We are trying to unify the world, and we see all truth. That is what we can work for,

Unification of the world could only be based upon love. And we could share all justice. That is called humanism.

As we see all efforts with the United Nations. We have all the possibilities that we can work for.

We have a choice of the world. Even people may ask for their choice for the world and the future. These are the reality of liberalism and democracy.

We are facing the last moment of history. And only wise may find the future.
