Politics must determine the world under their duty. And these are the proper attitudes of all politics.

Any direction in the world may be given under all decisions of all politics. These are the reasons why we have proposed all ideas from our office.

We can draw any pictures in the future, but all these are only given for academic use with their progress.

We can see that new world systems are so useful in seeking a new world. And also we need to build the next society using new technology and systems.

New world systems need him with a new philosophy. And it makes all things possible.

And all these may have occurred from all political fields who may have all ambition and will. We may look around the whole world and can find all new talents.

And if they can share their choice, it may be the new world itself under their agreement because they are the only hope of the world we can find.

Old men may leave the world, and youth make new steps and possess the world.

These are how we can create a new world.
