

In a nation

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

Under all opportunities are promised for all peoples by own nationality. This citizenship is a promise of the nation.

This equality of agreement is any basis of the nation.

Technology gives a future. And education is a future of the nation as same as former.

Politics determine the nation and the future. We may ask for our challenge.

Any reality of the world and time is more than any dream to all children.

We may equally dream of the future that we must make efforts to create a new nation.

The dream may not be an illusion but with its actions. Brave never leave from the future.

Any plan could be realized. So we may expand our vision as far as what we can do.

Technology and education are equally seen as the future.
