

KURODA Vision

July 8th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

We are honored to present a vision that could redefine the world as we know it. Our ideas are not just a reconstruction, but a transformation of the global landscape.

The new unification of the world we could seek under the full agreement and acceptance of new visions by all nations is a pivotal moment in history. We ask for your support in this monumental task of creating a new governance of the world with a unified government.

The new alliance with the universe causes us to participate fully in the universe.

We are striving to establish a new world system that transcends the limitations of capitalism and liberalism. This system, fueled by new technology and academic progress, holds the promise of a brighter future.

An agreement to abolish war is an agreement to end the history of war and proposes a new, shared world and future.

Guaranteeing a university education and providing basic security for all children and people offers an agreement on building a new world framework and society.

All of these are proposals for the United Nations General Assembly and World Congress.

We can propose a new framework that should not be occupied by any individuals but be for the participation of all people.

The new reality of a united world offers everyone a new future. These calls for bold decisions on environmental issues, women's participation in society, and proposals for a new world in which shared rules can be established.

Finally, politics has the potential to realize these things, and sincere dialogue can seek those results.

