The collapse of the world as we know it may result from the conflicts and wars in the Middle East. However, these could also be the seeds of a new world order, the beginning of a new era.

It is crucial that we comprehend the far-reaching effects of any new wars on the world. This understanding is the first step towards navigating the potential 'great reset' that may follow.

Here's a thought to ponder. If a world government were to be established, it would necessitate a new level of global engagement. Nations would need to align their goals and aspirations for the future.

So, we need to make all our realities stand against the future. This is the basis on which we can work and seek our futures.

And we now have all our contact with the universe, which means we may stand equally to the world. We are not trying to create a new reality but to follow any circumstances.

And we offer all peace to the world with its unification. This must be more than Langley's technique. It is The fable of the north wind and the sun.

And these are the possibilities and any reality we must be given to us. Which means we can work for the world.

There should not be any conflict but all new cooperation; that is all our decision to the world with all our world visions.

You may find all my descriptions on this website and all of your political realities useful.

These are not uncertain but certain and the only way we may find a world.

And last, I can say that the king always has his decisions, and it makes the world.
