

Military

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

If we are trying to face equality in the world, we need an equal military.

Today military is decided by its technology. That gives us an idea that any development and progress in academics gives the possibility to settle or military.

We have new space ages that we are stepping new possibilities even.

Its systems under the IT environment cover all communication and the military chain of command. All training system gives the progress of the military.

We all agree that we have a new age with the latest technology. Technology gives even superiority.

As Taiwan has new space technology that causes difficulty for the invasion to them. And we may know that all other nations gain all these technologies the war goes more than any tragedy. Then we reach an idea that abandons wars.

The USA asks for Pax Americana, but it has truth then. It is controlled under their presence.

We may know that we are facing a final decision. It is the duty of all politics.

Under all these realities, the foreign affair is the right decision.

If we have a future, the future is under the decision of all politics.

There is all fear of full-scale wars. So foreign affair gives more than any benefit to the world.

The military could be the last decision, but the foreign affair may be as so.

This may be the last option. Politicians should not toss coins.