

New consensus under the new dialogue

July 8th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

Dialogue may reach a new consensus. It may be a decision of the world.

In any international conference, all politicians may argue and make all the decisions of the world. These are the new international principles we are trying to propose and make new rules and laws of the world.

We can redesign the world under a new consensus, which may be under a new dialogue and argument involving all nations.

We have a choice, which may be the decision we can see in the world. And these belong to all politics.

As you may know, these have all contrasted with the reality we have of the world, and we can see that these are the conversations that consist of all humanity.

We are facing the future, which may cause differences in our choices.

Under all new ideas we may propose to the international society. In which we only find a way to the future.

We have tried to use any descriptions on our website. We hope you find some possibilities in the world.

We may redesign the world under the hopes, but on the other hand, we may find disappointment.

We are trying to force you to make a choice. And it is the future we may find.