Power divides the world under the same vision, the New World Order. We need our vision of the world.

Our mission is urgent: to redesign the world, harnessing the full potential of new technology and systems. Introducing new standards and measures is not just a suggestion but a pressing necessity to shape a new world system.

Imagine a world unified under a single government. What other changes, what other possibilities, may we see in the future?

The new space age has a new relationship and cooperation with the universe. We are equally trying to participate in it as new members.

Politics must lead all these realities under its determination of self and give us a new world vision.

Any poverty and social problem must be addressed through new political actions and social designs with the participation of all people.

We have all the possibilities described above. We are permitted to recreate the world as a paradise with a new world system and the use of new technology and systems.

We must find that politics makes them all possible. So we need all new leaders of the world.

All these potentials and possibilities are possible with all talent, human resources, and skills and abilities.

To see the whole world, how many talents can we find?
