New economy and capitalism

KURODA International
Takeshi Kuroda

Economy comes to be a purpose in these days. But for the truth, the economy is the use of lives. All occupation of wealth shows wrong of reality as social systems.

Tails with the basic income, we are asking for a new social system as all use technology and systems. Out of occupation of wealth but share all wealth by peoples.

Reconstructing society by the measure of society 5.0 and builds new world systems. Free trade systems are asking progress of lives.

Digital systems are the new creation of all reality. Competition is all bases of the economy but reconsidering of competition that economy may not ask competitions.

This is full of doubt about the purpose of lives and beings. This philosophical question must be answered.

Share economy and social responsibility are new movements of the economy as ownership and wealth settle any reality by wealth. The world is following all these realities.

And we see that all children must have futures. That is the duty of the world.

These are the correct understanding of the bases of a new world.

Under the measure by wealth or moral the world is asked self of choice.
