

New rule in the international society of Mutual benefit and respect

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

We have all confusion as any conflict, but we could ask for a new agreement in the international Society.

Respect and mutual benefit could share the world itself. We could try to unify the world. But we need a proper agreement on the tail of itself.

We find all power games in the world, but asking for any consequence and even with an ideal for the future. We could seek for a new world.

A new world with all the dreams of all people with no suffering and pain could be ideal for the new world. We are trying to raise a hand and share the world and the future.

What the world could provide to all peoples in the future. This may be a decision of all politicians.

How could we share dreams? Anyone could speak a word in front of any people of the world?

If we have a new world, what is our choice? We find all heroes in history. And We need them even today as such beings. I want you to be that.

This is a way we find the future and to be served. What could we find a truth in all eyes of any people? That is an answer we see with any truth.

We need the sake of the world that we know. We need a first step that we could follow.

Dreams may not be an illusion but a reality we have to spend ourselves in the future.

Do we have a dream in the world? That is a reality of the world we have today.

There is a song by Eric Clapton called Change the World. We need to try to change the world.