

Ownership of economy

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

Coming the future, we are facing massive capital of its effect and technology, a system with realities. These are promises of victory with economic wars.

There is a control of the world under massive capitals. They are seeking new reality by and with technologies.

Liberal Camp seeks their presence with their victory. To consider the highest technology and system as capitals seek their futures with reality. And any social progress is from a Western camp.

This is a reality as same as Russia is called Satan. Capitalism and competition desire a new world.

There is proof that all business reality has a revolutionary change as we spend today.

The business may not be a donation but its ownership. That imagine competition and wars. With the coming future, the world has a plan.

A free economy permits all new realities. Capitals seek themselves with ownership of the world.

These are the result of capitalism. That gives us a full doubt that the world might ask difference from reality.

Due to its ownership but the benefit of people, we may try with a world.
