

Participation in the formation of corporate groups in the reality of the world

Kuroda International Foundation

Takeshi Kuroda

The birth of an empire, such as at GAFAM, is a clear criterion for companies to participate in the global market in the future. Therefore, the formation of a corporate group is the right choice for survival.

This is because they have money services, communication services, cooperation in advanced technology and IOT in automobiles, participation in smart homes and Society 5.0 in their own groups.

It is possible to seek equal self-participation from the world in these new technical standards and capital strength. These empires have a self-presence forever, so their choice is correct.

These will enable the exact same services and participation in the new IOT, Society 5.0 in technical and corporate cooperation.

In addition, infrastructure development in the newly developed environment and corporate environment will establish high efficiency and cost standards, and agree on the cooperation of the group in high profitability in its distribution and sales in the world market.

These are proposals for the group to respond and participate in future competition and changes in reality.
