The construction of an East Asian community is a counter-proposal to an all-out war with Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, and the United States against North Korea and China. The construction of reality in these new choices proposes the formation of a region in a consensus of peace.

All these are the only possibilities we have to stand against any reality of the world. We have to see if the Anglo-Saxon mission may not accept any colored races.

And we are trying to present our world vision. Who may be trying to follow them? We are trying to gather our group to rebuild a world and the future.

Then, we are standing equally to any realities. That means we could work for the world.
