Facing the world's reality, their historical background asks about its survival. They are the king of the east and face the western camp.

These are conflicts of civilization in truth. But the law of reality called power politics may not give any excuse.

Reality is more than severe. They know all its truth. They may find an idea from different points of view from their history. Wise politicians may find its picture different from existing.

All hero of history steps their trust, not from the others. They had created history.

To see their people, they may find the truth. That is a decision of theirs.

The foreign affair comes different from its decision by reality. That is only escaping with theirs.

I swear that political change with its attitude may ask for their revolution.

There is a new possibility as they participate in a world with their difference. The change is always from self.

International law and its court are based on fairness. They may ask for anew.

Any relationship with a world is changed from self but not from the others.
