In history, he was an emperor. Today he has a choice.

In his history, we find all tragedies but how people spend them in the world.

If there is hope, a nation must be a paradise.

But a reality we have, there we conder any history of his. But any future we decide.

What is a dream of, people? But what is the truth we find in the world?

The modernized society we face today, but the new world order forces us to make our steps.

I find only tears in history of his. But the future is only a disappointment in reality.

West takes all advantage of all reality. Life must be the difference between theirs to his.

Facing any reality, justice and the military are all world decisions.

This must be an all-irony we have to know.

We must pay for all our effort if we cannot find the messiah.

Lie, or the truth must be our decision. Hope is only a way we have today and in the future.

We all dare to take full responsibility for the world as any reality that causes us to be wordless.

If we do not have a smile, we must stop our steps.
