

Perpetual social cycles and systems

September 26th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

These will involve the creation of all social systems, industries, and lifestyles in a circular economy with zero environmental impact.

It is imperative that all these initiatives gain the nation's consensus, particularly in politics. This underscores the vital role of political unity in our collective pursuit of environmental goals.

Politics must design all the details of these ideas for society and industry. Every nation must adhere to these standards and share the costs as a new social formation.

All industrial products distributed within the country must agree to these standards and contribute their share of the new taxes.

This new legislation will again transform all realities in the country, demonstrating the necessity of legal frameworks for change. All private institutions will play a crucial role in implementing these standards, and new standards will be applied in running the country.

These will mandate a circular economy and zero-emissions agreements and standards through political decisions.

We are recreating any realities under the new measure and asking for all use of the latest technology and systems in a new society.

These will demonstrate and realize the transition to a new social and national system through political decisiveness and resolve.

Systema and reality are facing all new realities of society and life. These are the total shift to the new future.