

Plan and act

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Any plan promises that we will share all realities in the future. Only an act make it come.

So politics must make a decision, and bureaucrats must make all details to be realized in the world.

Anything that is out of limitations is possible under the plan and act. That is the correct understanding of politics, and they must make a future.

Continuously we are trying to act on any details that must give any result.

All those ideas give us a picture if we make all detailed plans that could realize more than any imagination in reality.

We could design and raise any visions. And I give you the truth. Any ideas could be realized under plan and act.

That must reach an idea. If the plan is a future, politics takes any decision. And there is only a choice with them.

We first make a target if we decide with society, military, industry, and space technology. And we have to know that anything is possible under plan and act. Then we need a proper understanding of reality and make all detailed plans.

All reality must follow all plans. There we may find the determination of the mind.

The highest target and goal may be the lowest in a few years after. So we have to be wise.

This is all our offer from our office KURODA International Consulting.
