If politics ask himself with all responsibility for people and the world, we may find common ideas with any cooperation of any nations.

And all these attitude may cause new realities for all peoples even as we now have all difficulty of livelihood.

But out of it, we have to pay own efforts. These are the irony of all logic. Because all politics yell their responsibility of themselves.

But under all these consensus may change the world instead all reality we have with a world.

And surely that we know all politics has their responsibility for the world and the future. Under all these point of views we force them with their final decisions.

The world is facing to the future. And choice is only contained with future itself. And these are all with all politics itself.

King always has decision for the world and the future. We can only propose any ideas only. But who can decide the world itself?

We may try to seek who is asking all his responsibility for the world?

We, KURODA International Consulting LLC, can only offer the world and the future. But we may not have decision for it.

We all know the world has his truth on the tail of itself. Instead if there are any changes , we may find a hope.

These are the any contact to the world under our ideals and philosophy.
