

Power and technology

February 16th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

The world power game gained itself with the highest technology to seek a new reality. We have a change and the future of a new dream.

Technology expands its possibilities in any reality and gives progress in its presence to the world.

New technology expands itself to a new future. They give us new possibilities to make all changes a reality.

Progress in academics and technology gives us a difference from the past. Without any doubt, we still have a new future.

Industrial power is a measure to find the future. And new technology has all new creations of the future.

These are the powers that cover the world. And it comes only as a reality, so we must put ourselves into all these realities.

These are proper explanations for the reality of the power game. We still have military and space technologies.

Power with new technology and capital is a trend that we have to know the world. These are the result of capitalism and liberalism.

If we could propose the future, we need a new system and rules with its teal of philosophy.

But we may follow losers' logic. In any history, history makes all realities, never with defeat.

A new world with a new dream that we could propose to the world. Only then do we find a dream within.

