Finance and military are the all tails of the world, which make the balance of all realities. So politics has its decision for reality.

There are all nations that face this power balance, and they only have their choices under the reality.

Power balance may be constructed under two factors. Finance and military. Under these points of view, we can find all the realities of the world.

World society is all covered under these realities. There are all difficulties to rise any ideals against the world.

Our challenge is to stand up for the truth in these realities and seek a new world. And if the world accepts it, it may cause new realities.

But we have all changed today in any field of reality. The current system and vision can't help adjust the world to the future.

We may have all new challenge which is the recreation of the world. We must ask for all new ambitions of those who may propose a new world.

We have to ask his steps for the future, and that is who possibly gives us the future.

These are the hopes of all ambitious beings. And all skills and abilities permit new possibilities for the future.

And it could be a decision of the world. And it is the future itself.
