

President Trump's tariff policies and the return to the white coalition

January 9th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

These are the most significant opportunities. We must complete the establishment of self-reality along with the ideals of humanity.

India and China can achieve self-reliance and self-sufficiency in their domestic markets.

Only the development of all industries, from cutting-edge industries to self-sufficiency in food, with the right economic policies is required to build our own economies.

These will establish our own economic spheres along with assistance to other countries, realize the formation of our own group in the world, and confront the Third World.

These will build our own reality along with cooperation with the universe, and obtain real responses.

Proposing world harmony and ideals against the reality of white supremacy will realize world unity.

Expressing these at the UN Permanent Security Council and its meetings will seek the world's approval, and if they reject this, we will establish a unified world government and confront the Third World War with that justice.

Based on these realities, we will realize the world revolution with the disclosure of all information and achieve complete victory.