

Reaching despair

KURODA International Consulting

Reaching despair is to face reality, but all mind control that you put yourself as a dream. The new world order is the only reality we may find in reality. There is all contact with the universe, who makes with whom we have to know.

Do you have any hope you may find under all realities?

That is the only we can find in the world, even though we have a reality called Matrix.

Russia sends a rocket to the universe under contact with Alian, which has an invasion from NATO. What does it mean?

I made further efforts from our office to the world if you find any ideas that come to be the best of our owner.

The world is going for a change. If there is any access from the universe, we may find hope in the world.

We have no time for all plans, and there is a great reset to their world.

This is the end of history. That is what we have to know. Who has wealth and celebration under all these circumstances? That's what I know. His name is Satan.

I will not stand against this. Do not resist the evils of the Bible. But Armageddon should give all the hate. The promise of the end of history has Armageddon.
