

Reconsideration of the world under humanitarian,

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

We could judge the world under agreement and consideration of humanitarian. And it gives any solution to any reality.

We could try any calculation of the world under humanitarian. And we see all problems and failures. Then we could ask for all our actions.

There are all the social vulnerable we find today. We could face them under humanitarians.

All consensus of politics could be with humanitarian. That causes new steps for them.

Then we find the truth. We made any solution for the world, and we see the future.

This is the right attitude we can face the world and any inhumanities.

And we found all secrets that we could create a new world under all consensus and agreement.

How many tears do we find in the world? That gives a complete acceptance of my opinion. We can provide them with a future.

These are full judgments of any reality of the world and bases of any future creation.

Under all these consensus, we could cooperate and share the world.

And we are trying to give all dreams to all people. This must be the right action in politics.

How could we reach the future? This must be an answer we could share.
