In the face of the world's reality, we may propose new world systems. All those ideas must promise all peoples to its futures.

We are causing world revolutions. These are all the world's possessions under massive capitals. These are the realities of all world economies.

Reconstruction of all realities must be based on new philosophies. And all its tails are the ideas that we may reconstruct the world.

These are given under a new dialogue of the world, and these are all our proposals to all international societies.

A new possibility is lying right in front of us all. It may be a new future seeking for all our choices.

Rebuild all societies under a standardization regime in any region of the world, and they may propose to us a new world and new lifestyles.

How can we realize a new world? We need the design for it and all-new talent.

It may also be possible to seek world unity when all nations seek an agreement to renounce war.

The future is always a choice. These are any proposals from our office to the world.

Hope is the only direction that lies right in front of us all.

Then how do we find a world? We are trying to redesign the world for the future. Any cooperation is welcome from all points of view.
