

Recreation of the world

April 13th, 2024

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

These are recreations of the world under new technology and social systems. We have taken new steps into the universe.

The world could be reconstructed under new systems and frameworks. This is not a one-sided argument but an open invitation for discussion from every nationality and nation because every voice matters.

These are the requirements for the World Conference. And we are trying to make any decision about the world.

New technology serves us in a new society and livelihood, which is totally different from the past and must be a new world.

And new eras as we make new steps with the universe and try to make new cooperation ship with them.

We must redesign the world. So, we have to gather all human sources to make new decisions and designs.

We are standing in front of the future as we try to recreate the world.

How can we find the future? This question must be asked of all our decisions since design is the future itself.

The past must be ended; we see the past in eras with wars. If we decide on peace, we need agreement from all nations.

All these must be from politics; we are seeking our king.

The age of new dreams must begin. It is called a new future.