

Return to American Unilateralism

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

America had all control over the world in the 20th Century. But now they are backing to own nation.

That means all their wealth is used to build their nation.

New technological revolution and social system may not be reached from the others.

Space technology and the army give them a new reality as their futures.

Huge capitals are all these bases.

These are with next society from Mr. Druker that they are with next generation of reality.

And their new investment in infrastructure with a new standard and recreation for the nation.

But the only truth that we do not know is there is a tail called New World Order. Any capital movement may not deny it.

That first time we are facing the reality of the world. That only permits any step to the world and future.

All their political environment allow them to handle any reality of the world.

The new age of space participation has contact, and their vision tails with the reality that they are dreaming their future.

The world with its game gives winners and losers.

We can see with our own eyes with its reality to be proofed.
