

Reunification of the world

November 27th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

The governance of the world should be based on new consensus and agreements that may share the world and new futures.

All conflict must be instead of the new unification we may propose. The growth of the discussion may lead to a new consensus and agreement.

These are a new diplomacy consensus, and we may seek the world's new reality.

These may be based on the progress of new academics, and they realize all new realities according to the latest global consensus.

We may know that all these could be based on discussions and arguments to reach any result, but on the other hand, there is no conflict in the world.

They may share all new agreements to settle the world from conflict to unification.

We can propose and appear in a new vision that we may share. We see that agreement is any promise we find in the future.

We may have a new attitude toward diplomacy, from any conflict to new unification.

We have all commissions and organizations, but we must agree on a unified global governance that shares the same opinions and actions regarding conflicts and wars.

These are new worlds with new possibilities, and we are trying to rebuild them with the latest technologies.

Any international society must argue with them to make new governance of the world, and we could share all new consensus with the world.