

Roman Empire

February 25th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Rome, which had the reality of eternity, had its downfall. This is the correct consideration for a nation's search for the future.

The outstanding reality of the self has transcended the world with its richness. However, conflicts with the outside world led to internal collapse and self-destruction. This conveys the need for agreement, consensus in government, and diplomacy to maintain stability.

All these give us consideration of the eternality since they had had it in their realities.

What can we find with them? It must be freedom of life in their reality as the roots of the Western camp.

As we find the others, they must be in agreement with the people. These are the socialism of reality we have today from the roots of the West.

If the conflict between civilizations is the world's choice for the correct future, we may be able to understand reality.

Affluence, isolated from reality, established its reality together with its civil society. All these are facts and truths of history that we find similarities in any region.

But we can find all new learnings in the history to the future. Even today, it is true that abundance is the only judgment of reality.

We must understand that these were excellent social upbringings. Their social and intellectual superiority was unmatched by others.

All these understand that livelihood secures self and gives all continuation of realities. But the power game must steal them all. So we have a learning, political consensus may guarantee own nation.