

Rough design of development of whole Asia

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Any decision and development are under society's 5.0 measure to reconstruct any reality and life. Hyperloop and new transportation systems are developed under domestic capital and industry.

All these are expanded with any region's reality under new development with this standard. We must determine that all next society must be all common in the future.

There require political consensus to renew the region under national expenses and plans.

Spending amount of expense on all new infrastructure that is based on next-generation technologies. These are from political determines.

On the other hand, education is necessary for a new participation in the future.

There are linked by a core city in the unification of all regions. These are agreed by political agreement with the development of self.

We may find that all new standards and agreements recreate any realities.

These proposals to the competent bureaucrats require them to take the lead in designing new societies and communities.