

Seeking for a new world

June 25th, 2024

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

If the world unifies, what differences may we find? How should the world be governed? May the Western camp make all decisions?

Under fairness and conscience, the world could find a new world. That means the world could be changed in the future.

The new system could be considered for new steps in the future. How would the world react if all human sauces were discussed and new world designs were created?

New designs may be used to reconstruct the world. New technology and systems could make the world totally new.

The governance of the world should be based on all arguments and discussions to decide the world that is left divided by nations.

These are the proposals to all idealists of the West. We are offering their dreams.

Any argument and consideration must include a full, detailed plan and idea. These are the new actions of International society from us to them.

These are based on new possibilities and realities, such as new participation in the universe and the creation of civilization under new technologies.

All these must require the agreement of all nations as their representatives.

These are gathering all ideals and hopes to make a whole new world. So we need all talent and human sauces to be collected to build a new world.

These are the proposals from our office to all my friends. Please understand that I am saying hello to the world.

