Put ourselves out of all history into a new world. These are the shifts from the past to the future. We have a new creation of all realities today.

In the future, we can discover a new technological civilization where we witness the full development of reality in economies.

However, the current world system may not be able to sustain the future that is coming. It means we need new world systems.

Under its generation gap, we can also find all differences. But it may not end here; we are still seeking new futures.

Shifting all values from all existences to a new world is the current trend in our world today.

Redesigning the world is necessary today. And all these require highly skilled beings to progress and find the truth of eras.

These are all bases of new dialogue. And we can reach a new consensus and agreement of the world.

And all these are based on all growth and progress of academics. They can serve us new possibilities in reality.

And we can see we need new cooperation of the world and we can argue and make new world principles.

We have new eras which we are trying to make all our new steps into the universe. And these require all progress and shift of all technologies.

These could be a new decision of the world, even a nation, to find new hope for the future.
