To gain the future we have our choices. And if politics has it, they may decide the future.

This is 送雪炭 from our office to the world because we have a future under all our choices.

The decision represents the direction and reality we will encounter in the future. Thus, a detailed plan encapsulates all aspects of the future itself.

But we must ask who makes that decision. If we want to uncover all reality in the world, we must cultivate any friendship that encompasses all stories of any alliance.

If the choice is stolen, it means you are only tools that work for them. So, the priority of politics and the nation is to maintain independence in making any policy.

Politics must always assume responsibility for all the people of a nation. This is any righteous consensus of political action.

Then, we may redesign reality through the use of new technologies. Diplomacy must share the same decision under any calculation of all realities from the past to the future. This means we have to leave bad friends.

Conscience represents any agreement as we seek our future. All these form the reality and foundation on which we should base ourselves to achieve everything in the future.

The charcoal in the snow can also be the light of the future.

The military could beside with dialogue. And we can't ask ourselves any crime in the world.

This is the way of our justice, which is only permitted to find the path to the future. Politics must follow this and make the whole world anew.
