We find all roots of the West. They have independence and life in their society. We see that they have been accepted in their culture for its requirements.

In Japan, they make their origin and society accept all peoples' demands. All these are changed in the last 30 years.

All these are remarked with our idea that society and life must be filled with independence.

In other words, we say society must fulfill any demand and life of all people by his independence.

We find different roots and backgrounds in any region. But politics must understand that people must ask for the society they belong to.

We have all technology and industry. But, in asking for independence, we must prepare all with our efforts.

These are with proper political action and understanding.

As I could find, all these ideas have full use in constructing any society.

Since there are all different roots, that means they could ask for all their future within all these understandings.

If society fulfills all people's demands, we could ask for the future. That must be all true as we have all new technologies.

As we find remarkable life in the West, that is what we have to follow, and noteworthy life is only from the progress of academics.
