

Summary of Asian Unification

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Never seek people as instruments of the state. Proper growth and upbringing of children, together with education, is an obligation to give them a future as human beings, not as tools.

The construction of a new society is to realize the construction of a correct society and life in modern academics. This is because these are the only things that can make a leap forward and realize the future of Society 5.0 in reality.

These are the complete denial of oppression of the people and the political agreement that all people should be guaranteed survival and express their purpose in life.

Providing all children free of charge up to and including university education provides all children with the best self-development and allows them to participate in a new technological civilization.

These powers can establish new realities not by neglecting people but by doing their duty to their lives.

In addition, the reality of participating in a new space requires large-scale space development with the participation of excellent human resources, and collaboration and cooperation with space gives oneself the possibility of expansion.

These are revolutionary changes to the existing reality, and by denying its errors and establishing the foundation of a correct society and life for oneself, correct participation in the future and new possibilities can be realized.

Reconciliation policy in foreign policy transforms confrontation into dialogue and realizes the building of new relationships in sharing responsibility to the world.