

The Choice of Resolution, Not Condemnation

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

All crimes and problems are from historical mistakes. So we may not blame any but ask for all solutions.

If we give complete forgiveness, how may we ask for the future? We may ask for a new world under all these bases.

There are all reasons that cause all problems and crimes so that we would ask for all solutions in the world.

There is all truth. But if we find tails, all these are from any history.

There is a choice. We are trying to seek a new future. That must be all from politics.

These are not cheap ideas. But if we deeply consider, this must be a correct answer.

These could be a base that could give us a base for the new world.

We have more than any problems in the world. But if we ask for a new step, that is a new idea with a new world.

We are trying to stare at any eyes in the world that could give us any truth.

We need not with conflict but the future.