

The Great Reset Moment

June 9th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

The time has come. We have no choice from today to the future. The die has been cast.

The creation of the new world may start from the falling down of all realities to renew a new world.

We have to see how all politics make themselves. That is all the effect of the world who have all their plans for the new world.

And we must know that the United Nations is the pole that gives us new justice under all media control by Langley. And we need to be wise to know this is the world we have today.

Under all these circumstances, we may calculate the world today, and we may find any reality of the world.

The world has a truth, and that is the only reality of the world.

Instead of all those realities, we are required to seek for our future. And we may ask, what are decisions?

And we have to ask who gives us an answer.

But the only possibility we have is we have to seek in any political field, and that is one who gives us the future.

He may be the only hero we are given. And that is the all-righteous attitude of the king.

Where can we find him? This is a treasure game we need to put ourselves within global societies.