

The New Choice of Reconciliation

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

All conflicts cover the world as we seek in all past. Dialogue is the only choice to have reconciliation.

The world, with all conflict, we are trying to participate in reconciliation.

There are all problems, but any conflict can not give us a solution. Any agreement must be under all dialogue. And we reach an answer that the war may not solve any problems.

From all these points of view, what can we see in the world? Solutions can propose a shared world and future.

The new space age is lying right in front of us. That means we have more than any dreams for the future.

It is a proposal for resolution and decision in dialogue. Then what can we see in the future?

The new consensus is under reconciliation, and we are trying to create a new world.

These are our proposals for international society, even for all futures.

How could we imagine the new world with those? Since we have all wars in all history, but we are facing a new future.

Even these could give a new consensus for the Ukraine matter as we could dream of a new future.

All conflict gives us hatred. The law of competition gives conflict that is a truth. We could ask for all dialogue as we propose a new social and world system.

We are trying to share the world and the future.
