The new world is fully ready. The new world has the necessity of new systems in the economy, finance, social, and military sectors.

We now have all the evolutionary changes in any field of reality. These are the shifts to the new futures.

We may find that all new technology from industry and university may make it possible to shift to a new, comfortable, and abundant society and life.

In all these turning points of history, we may know the shift from history to new technological civilizations. And we are now in all its changes of all realities.

Then the requirement of human resources is those who have a high level of knowledge of academics. And that is all the new elite we have today.

We can see that all shifts in any values are all the changes we have in the world today.

And we can see these are the ideas to recreate the world for new futures. And we may have a new design of the world, and politics must determine itself.

We need to adjust the world to a new future with its new world and social systems. These are the deepest considerations of all reality from any past to new futures.

Righteous decision is all tails of the future, and we can only find it in politics.

But instead of all, we have a reality of the world which must have its own decision of the world.

But a hope is the only direction we can follow at any time.
